

“For What It’s Worth”™

Are Collector Car Values Increasing?

Absolutely, along with everything else. Good quality cars and trucks in above average condition continue to increase in value. Annual increase can be between 5% and 10% each year depending on several factors:

- The year, make and model,
- The vehicle’s condition, and
- Documentation.

Cars in good condition with valid documentation are clearly sought after by individual collectors. A good car is better than money in the bank to most people, especially when you consider the 1% interest rate that you typically get at the bank these days.

Use it or Lose it!

Old cars are a lot like old people. What works today may not work next week! You may not agree with me yet but, by the grace of God, one day you’ll understand.

Like people, cars & trucks need to be exercised on a regular basis. This insures proper lubrication and will clean out condensation in exhausts and fuel lines.

Have fun! Drive your collector cars. They’ll love it and so will you.

Happy Driving! Larry Batton, AAG Founder

Could your collector car pay big dividends in the future?

Old cars in good condition continue to be of interest to collectors and supply is smaller than demand.

Certification Opportunity continues to attract New Agents

AGENT TESTIMONIALS

“I made my investment back within the first 6 months”.

“I like being reimbursed for doing something I consider fun—researching and inspecting machines”.

Recent AAG Agent Certification classes have seen a diversity of expertise in our newest agents. We are always encouraged when we see such talent coming into our group. Recent additions have included collectors who have been restoring and collecting Corvettes, Hot Rods & Muscle Cars for 20 to 40 years each. Many of our new agents are recent retirees who enjoy putting their old car knowledge to good use.

AAG’s next Certification Classes are May 9-12 in Fort Lauderdale and June 20-23 in a not yet determined location. We like to keep our classes relatively small so that when we review inspections, there is plenty of time for personal interaction and hands-on practice. Apply Today!
