

"For What It's Worth"

COLLECTOR CAR VALUE TRENDS SEMINAR

You are invited to AAG's annual seminar at the AACA Meet which will be held at the downtown Sheraton in Philadelphia on February 8 & 9, 2013.

What trends did we see in 2012? What do we anticipate for 2013? Will we see more record prices set at auction? Will we see great bargains for the shrewd investor? Come see our Master Appraiser's highlights and analysis of all the Scottsdale, Arizona collector car auction fun! Larry Batton, Dick McIninch and John Delaney, will host AAG's informative seminar about current collector car values and trends of today's market. Don't forget to stop by the trade show and talk with us about a special presentation to your local car club or about starting a new AAG agency in your community.

Larry Batton, AAG Founder and Master Appraiser at last year's Value Trends Seminar.

AAG has participated in the seminars for close to 15 years. The seminars are educational, well received and always lots of fun. We are honored to be invited back every year.

2011's AACA display featured a variety of Woodie's including this 1947 Nash Ambassador Suburban. Wonder what we'll see this year?
